THE BARBER

The barber has a casy job. He jest stands there cutting hair. That's what he gets paid for, so thats As soon as you set in his chair.

Without asking you eny questions He jest cuts it from its connections, For he knows you wouldent of went there In case you had eny objections.

Wen he cuts it with seissors theres nothing to feer And you set there in sweet peacefill thawt, But wen he uses his clippers you start to feel queer Because some of its sometimes gets

Some fellows like their hair long Wile some like it the reverse, O the barber will cut it either way. Wat does he care wich looks werse?

O allways wawk in for a hair cut With a smile upon your face, Because wile it may not be a honor

MEMORIAL FUND GROWS

Fund for Tribute at Lansdowne Is Nearly Subscribed

More than two-thirds of the money necessary for the World War Memorial that will be dedicated in Lansdowne Armistice Day has been subscribed, and, according to John H. Jarvis. chairman of the Finance Committee in charge, contributions expected to be before November 11 will complete the fund.

Claude A. Simpler is chairman of the Memorial Committee, and the other efficers are: F. Rees Phillips, vice chairman; Thomas J. Lindsey, secretary, and George Foster White, treas-
